

Problem: Your son is disrespectful to you and doesn't listen when you talk to him.

- ✓ Be consistent in your rules and expectations
- ✓ Prepare for honest conversation
- ✓ Give acceptance, gain a great relationship

Testimonials

Albert D. from San Diego – Disrespect has no place in a family, especially between you and your teenager. Respect and honor are taught behaviors; and parents are the teachers. Keep up the good work. I love your book!

Bruce W. from Boston – I totally agree respect is a behavior that should be modeled by us (parents) to expect it from them (our teens). Trying to Stay Sane While Raising Your Teen really helped me set boundaries with my teens.

Nate J. from Aurora – Spare the rod and spoil the child is my mantra. Your parenting tips were great! When's the next book coming out?